Are you happy with yourself? Do you have a bad habit that you really need to break yourself of? Do you know what your weaknesses are? Are you having trouble with friends or family? Are you content with who you are and the direction in which your life is heading? Is there something about you that you want to change or improve upon? Write an English composition of about 250-300 words on the topic “A Self-improvement Plan.” Identify the problem first, discuss why it needs to be remedied, and then tell us about your self-improvement plan.
